Not The Nutcracker?!?!

In case you haven't heard yet our winter performance will not be The Nutcracker. We are excited to present Midwest Academy of Dance's debut of Alice in Wonderland. All dance classes will be a part of this performance on December 20, 2009. Parts will be announced mid October and we will be learning the dances in class shortly after that. More information will be provided through out October and November.

Please remember our studio's dress code! Parents especially help our tweens and teens. No tank tops, dance pants, cover-ups of any type or jewelry is allowed in class. Only ballet skirt or the official blue studio shorts are allowed. If you have any questions on what is required please ask your dancers teacher or in the office.

We want to welcome Mr. Kevin to our staff this year!

Mr Kevin is a music student at Washington University and will receive his B.A. in Music this December. He has worked with the Opera Theater of St. Louis' Opera Camp for Kids program and the St. Louis Science Center's Summer Science Blast Program. Mr Kevin was the Director for an acappella ensemble and is the president of the Washington University Concert Choir. We are very excited to have Mr. Kevin join us for the Musical Kids and the Musical Theater programs at Midwest Academy of Dance.
